

Joan Elise Dubinsky, Esquire

Ms. Dubinsky is the Chief Ethics Officer for the International Monetary Fund, based in Washington, D.C. In this role, she has institution-wide accountability for advising, guiding, communicating, and enforcing the Fund's values and standards. Reporting to the Managing Director, Ms. Dubinsky provides independent ethics advice and counsel to all levels of this complex international organization. Her mission is to help the institution and its staff make ethical decisions in a constantly changing global economy.

Ms. Dubinsky also leads the Rosentreter Group, a management consulting practice providing expertise in business ethics, organizational development, and corporate compliance. She has been retained to implement values- and rules-based ethics initiatives, conduct program assessments, measure the effectiveness of compliance systems, develop executive level interventions, and design high-impact training programs.

With close to twenty-five years of experience in the field, Ms. Dubinsky has served as the Ethics Officer, Associate General Counsel and Corporate Secretary for the American Red Cross (1985 – 1993) Senior Legal Counsel and Compliance Officer for The MITRE Corporation (1993 – 1996); founding member of the Arthur Andersen consulting practice in business ethics (1996 – 1997); and Associate Director, Employee Development for the Howard Hughes Medical Institute (1997 – 2004). Ms. Dubinsky leads the Conference Board's Research Working Group on Working at the Intersection of Human Resources, Ethics & Compliance. She is an Executive Fellow with the Center for Business Ethics. She is a contributing author to the forthcoming ECOA's Practitioner's Guide to Ethics and Compliance Programs, documenting best practices in the field of corporate compliance. She has published articles in such journals as Law Governance Review, Ethikos, Federal Ethics Reporter, IOMA's Report on Preventing Business Fraud, CPA Consultant, and the Center for Business Ethics News. Her work in ethics training was prominently featured in Ethics Matters: How to Implement Values-Driven Management, by Dawn-Marie Driscoll and W. Michael Hoffman (2000). Her work on investigations is highlighted in Blackwell's Companion to Business Ethics, ed. by Robert Fredericks (1999). A Phi Beta Kappa, Ms. Dubinsky received her Juris Doctorate from the University of Texas at Austin and her undergraduate degree in Religious Philosophy from the Residential College, University of Michigan.

Ms. Dubinsky is active in the cultural arts, music, and dance communities of Washington, D.C., and serves on the Board of Directors of the Olney Theatre Center.
